Terms and Conditions

1. Demo Purpose

This website is a demonstration project and does not represent a real online store. All displayed products are for illustrative purposes only. No actual orders, payments, or deliveries will take place.

2. Use of Fake Information

Since this site is not functional for real shopping, you may use fictitious data during the checkout process. No genuine user information is required.

3. Personal Data Collection

For demonstration purposes, the following information may be requested:

- First Name
- Last Name
- Email Address
- Password
- Billing and Shipping Address

Please note: All data entered is considered test data and is not stored permanently.

4. Data Storage and Retention

To manage limited server capacity, all demo data will be automatically deleted when storage is full. No user information is retained long term.

5. Payment Processing

Real payments are not supported. No financial data is collected or processed, and no monetary transactions can occur on this site.

6. Cookies

This website uses only essential cookies necessary for core functionality. By using this demo, you consent to their use.
